A Mockery of Marriage

Marriages are now being recognized between couples of the same sex (men with men and women with women). Jesus said, “Have ye not read, that He which made them at the beginning made them male and female, and said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they two shall be one flesh? Wherefore they are no more two, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.” (Matthew 19:4-6). Please note that God made them “male and female”. Note also man leaves “father and mother.” This is God’s ordained arrangement for the home and family.

When man departs from God’s ways we should consider the question “Where will it end?” The following is an excerpt from an article sent to me by two different individuals. It reminds me of the old saying, “If not, why not?”

I do not wish to add to the confusion, but only cause us to consider the possible end of a thing when it is contrary to God’s will.

(A Scene at City Hall in San Francisco, CA.)

“Next.” Good morning. “We want to apply for a marriage license.”
“Names?” “Joe and Jim Jones.” “Jones? Are you related? I see a resemblance.” “Yes, we’re brothers.” “Brothers? You can’t get married?”
“Why not? Aren’t you giving marriage licenses to same gender couples?”
“Yes, thousands, but we haven’t had any siblings. That’s incest!” “Incest? No, we are not gay.” “Not gay? Then why do you want to get married?”
“For the financial benefits, of course. And we do love each other. Besides, we don’t have any other prospects.” “But we’re issuing marriage licenses to gay and lesbian couples who’ve been denied equal protection under the law. If you are not gay, you can get married to a woman.” “Wait a minute. A gay man has the same right to marry a woman as I have. But just because I am straight doesn’t mean I want to marry a woman. I want to marry Jim.”
“And I want to marry Joe, are you going to discriminate against us just because we are not gay?” “All right, all right...I will give you your license. Next...”
“Hi, we are here to get married.” (two males and two females) “Who wants to marry whom?” “We all want to marry each other.” “But there are four of you.” “That’s right. You see, we’re all bisexual and love each other. All of us getting married together is the only way we can express our sexual preferences in a marital relationship.” “Surely, you’re not going to discriminate against bisexuals?” “No, it’s just that, well, the traditional idea of marriage is that it’s just for couples.” “Since when are you standing on tradition?” “Well, I mean you have to draw the line somewhere.” “Who says? There’s no logical reason to limit marriage to couples. The more the better...besides we demand our rights – equal protection under the law!!”
“Hello, I’d like a marriage license.” “In what names?” “David Deets.” “And the other man’s name?” “That’s all. I want to marry myself.” “Marry yourself? What do you mean?” “Well, my psychiatrist says I have a dual personality, so I want to marry the two together. Maybe I can file a joint income tax return and double up on Social Security.”

“That does it! I quit! You people are making a mockery of marriage!!”

If Not – Why Not?
