The Faith

The idea of faith is used in the New Testament in both the subjective and the objective sense. Subjectively, it speaks of our inner faith, our personal belief. “He who believes and is baptized will be saved” (Mark 16:16). Objectively, it is used as a synonym for the Gospel, “The faith.” It is this latter usage we want to consider here as we explore three important concepts related to “The faith.”

Entrance. If we are to have any hope of eternal life in heaven, we must be in the faith. We must enter into it. Paul spoke of being “In the faith” (2 Corinthians 13:5). Since the faith is the Gospel (Gal. 1:23; Rom. 1:15), we enter into it through baptism, obedience to the Gospel. We are told of some priests who “were obedient to the faith.” They obeyed the faith, the Gospel. They were baptized into Christ (Galatians 3:26-27) where salvation is (2 Timothy 2:10). Have you entered the faith through baptism?

Examination. Paul told Christians to “Examine yourselves as to whether you are in the faith. Test yourselves...” (2 Corinthians 13:5). He goes on in that verse to suggest that we could become disqualified. We can leave the faith and lose our souls. The examination Paul spoke of must be a daily ongoing practice. The standard we use for this examination is the faith, the Gospel. We read the Bible daily and examine our lives in its light, making corrections where we see the need. We will be judged by the words of Christ on the last day. This will determine our eternal destiny, whether heaven or hell. Are you examining yourself daily by comparing your life to the New Testament?

Evangelization. Paul wrote of some in the churches of Christ in Judea, “But they were hearing only, “He who formerly persecuted us now preaches the faith which he once tried to destroy” (Galatians 1:23). Paul preached “The faith.” This speaks of evangelization. God does not desire that all become preachers and teachers in the sense of pulpit preaching and public bible class teaching (James 3:1), but God does desire that all of us get involved in what has been termed “Personal evangelism.” We try to share the Gospel with others (Co-workers, neighbors, friends, family, etc.). Those who were scattered from Jerusalem “Went everywhere preaching the word” (Acts 8:4). We share the faith both through silence and speaking. We share through our example of Godly living, and by trying to teach others with words.☺

Jude vs.1-5

Jude, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called: Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied. Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints. For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ. I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.
