Hard To Understand?

“Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned”
(Mark 16:15-16).

These words are Mark’s recording of what we commonly refer to as the “Great Commission” — in contrast to the “Limited Commission.” The only difference in the two directives was the scope and area in which the teaching was to be done (Matthew 10:5-6).

With regard to these words of the Son of God, I have been witness to some of the most amazing mental gymnastics. Many of my friends will take what is so clearly commanded by Jesus and tell me why it is not necessary. Interesting, is it not?

“He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that believeth not shall be damned.” What about this statement is hard to understand?

An equivalent to this is: “He that drinks and eats shall live; he that drinks not shall die.” As long as I am drinking and eating, I will live. But when I decide to just eat and not drink, I will most certainly die. What part of this is hard to understand?

Remember, the words in Mark 16:16 are not the words of an apostle (though that would be acceptable). They are not the words of some guy on the side of the street. They are the words of the Son of the Living God who came from Heaven to dwell among men (Philippians 2:1-8).

So it should be clear, in order to “saved” from my sins, I must “believe” and “be baptized.”

On this day, Instead of listening to a “pastor” and his vast vocabulary, or your friend who is not “inspired,” listen intently to the King of Kings.

Do you believe? And if so, have you been baptized to wash away your sins (Acts 22:16)? If not, why not?

Let us help you in obeying God today!
