The Unnamed of Hebrews 11

Perhaps the most preached upon chapter of the New Testament is Hebrews chapter eleven. Beginning with the very definition of faith; “the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen”, and explaining that without this specific “faith” no one can please God. The Holy Spirit goes on to name no less than seventeen superlative examples of such faith. Arguably many, if not most, greats of faithful Bible history are specifically named (especially those who have an interest to the Jewish reader) along with the very actions that define biblical faith.

The Holy Spirit then leaves off the names to tell instead of the great trials of faith where in these unnamed saints were successful in the face of unimaginable (by today’s western world standard) struggles. The unnamed of Hebrews chapter eleven are said to have been “tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection; had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment: They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented; they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.” Heb. 11:35-38.

If the local newspaper carried a story of your great heroism, perseverance, and success, wouldn't you want your name included? Is the name more important than the deed that wrought success? What a selfish time in which we live. The Holy Spirit left many unnamed. The point possibly being that faith in action is to be better understood than dwelling on the person. The deeds of faith define faith not the reputation of the name holder. Remember in the faith-defining book of James no specific names are mentioned.

There is one more powerful statement given that is specifically said to describe these faithful saints; “of whom the world was not worthy.” How many saints today are exactly world-worthy? Their faith is lukewarm at best and for all intents and purposes cannot even be distinguished from the world. The same Holy Spirit elsewhere said; “Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof,” 1 John 2:15-17, “because the carnal mind is enmity against God,” Romans 8:7, and “know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God,” James 4:4. By this simple standard one can be discerned to either be a friend or enemy of God.

Is the world worthy of YOU?
